SIGNIFICANT OPPORTUNITIES AND CHALLENGES

Changing Nature of Crime
Criminal activity is becoming increasingly complex (global in scale, using more sophisticated technology). Criminals increasingly use new technology to commit crimes and are not constrained by geographic boundaries. The production and sale of illicit drugs, organized crime, gangs, internet crime, and identity theft are examples. Family violence, and violent crime in general, including its impact are drawing greater awareness and attention from the public. Compounding these issues is the province's population growth, resulting from a strong provincial economy. While population growth has contributed to an increase in the total number of criminal incidents and the resulting victimization, the crime rate has remained stable. The Ministry is working with partners, stakeholders and communities throughout the province to address criminal activity and the significant representation of Aboriginal people in the criminal justice system.

Law Enforcement
The impact of crime on society and how law enforcement agencies conduct their enforcement activities are of concern to the public. Discussions with law enforcement agencies will be initiated to develop a simplified complaint and disciplinary process. The growth in the use of international private security companies has created a need to standardize their conduct. The Ministry is also continuing to address public concern of enforcement accountability by developing model policies for police commissions and training and development for those involved in the civilian oversight of police.

Crime Prevention
The principles of crime prevention are supported as a necessary and viable adjunct to law enforcement. Promoting grassroots crime prevention programs ensures that communities have opportunities to participate in the justice process and are empowered to address local crime concerns. Educational materials and training opportunities are needed to enhance community crime prevention programs related to family violence, child exploitation, human trafficking, violence in and around premises licensed to serve liquor, and victim programs. Substance abuse and family stress are both increasing the need for a greater number and variety of prevention programs. The Ministry continues to work with partners including Aboriginal communities and mental health and substance abuse service providers to develop and deliver materials and programs.

Victims
The Ministry and community partners continue to work toward increasing public awareness of victims' programs and services. Media campaigns will continue informing communities and victims regarding victims' programs. In addition, the Ministry continues to collaborate with stakeholders to increase the province's capacity to deliver specialized services to victims of crime with unique needs. This includes expanding and enhancing services available to Aboriginal and immigrant victims who may face language and cultural barriers when accessing victim services, as well as expanding services for victims of specific types of crime such as domestic violence and sexual assault. Through these continued partnerships and public awareness campaigns the Ministry is working toward assisting victims to have a more meaningful role in the criminal justice system.

Corrections
Along with the changing nature of crime, the characteristics of the individuals committing crimes are changing as well. Correctional institutions must deal with more gang affiliated offenders, a large number of admissions with significant mental health disorders, and a rapidly growing remand population. Supervision of remanded persons is more staff intensive due to unresolved acute addictions, mental health, family conflict and gang related issues, as well as the anxiety related to the processing of the charges against them. The changing offender profile and custody population increase require additional training for correctional peace officers and enhanced bed-space capacity. federal legislative changes, such as the recently passed Bill C-9, will result in fewer offenders being eligible for conditional sentences, which will increase population pressures at correctional centres. Other proposed changes to federal legislation may also increase Alberta’s custody population over the next few years.

Populations at correctional centres have increased by approximately 40 per cent since 2000-01 and are projected to increase another 37 per cent between 2007 and 2011. Alberta is preparing a blueprint for the future of corrections to address current and future population pressures, implement evidence-based correctional practices and explore the efficacy of the current community supervision model. The Ministry has also begun work related to a new and larger Edmonton Remand Center that is expected to open in 2011.

Responsible Management of Alberta's Gaming and Liquor Industries

Albertans expect the gaming and liquor industries to continue to operate with integrity and accountability, and to balance choice with responsibility. The AGLC will continue to work with stakeholders and Albertans to develop appropriate policies and innovative programs to ensure integrity and accountability and to promote the responsible use of gaming and liquor products.

The AGLC will ensure the integrity of the liquor industry by investigating potential threats to ongoing operations and taking a more active role in the management of the liquor supply chain to ensure stability of the supply chain. With the short-term recommendations resulting from the Liquor Supply Chain Review now implemented, including performance measures for the private sector contractor managing the warehousing operations, the focus will shift to implementation of a long-term strategy during this business planning cycle.

The AGLC will continue to ensure the responsible management of its gaming industry. The current gaming industry is operating in the context of a strong provincial economy and increasing population. Growth of the gaming industry must continue to be carefully managed and controlled through rigorous licensing and evaluation processes.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES 2008-11

Through the Ministry's review of environmental factors, the strategic priorities described below have been identified. These are in addition to the important ongoing core activities of the Ministry and will have significant impact on the Ministry's Core Businesses.

BUILDING OUR QUALITY OF LIFE

1. Policing Framework

   Linkage:

   Goals 1 and 2

   Coordinate policing services to maximize effectiveness and efficiency of service delivery. Provide law enforcement leadership by developing a policing framework that addresses the dimensions of service delivery, governance and funding together to ensure effective coordination of federal, provincial and municipal enforcement and public security agencies such as police, sheriffs, community peace officers, and private security providers.
2. Additional Police Officers

Add 300 additional police officers over the next three years. Discuss options for achieving this priority with the various policing agencies in the province.

Linkage: Goals 1 and 2

3. Reduce Crime and Support Safe Communities

Work with partners, stakeholders and communities to implement recommendations from the Crime Reduction and Safe Communities Task Force Report to achieve a future in which Albertans will experience less crime, feel less fearful of crime and make their communities safer places to live and work. The ministry will focus on enforcement and prevention by adding more police and probation officers to address the serious problem of repeat offenders; adding more inspectors to enhance enforcement of the Gaming and Liquor Act; soliciting municipal input for policing strategies; encouraging, and partnering with municipalities and Alberta's First Nations to develop safe community strategies; participating in the Crime Reduction Secretariat; and developing a strategy to foster sensible alcohol use and reduce alcohol-related harm in our province.

Linkage: Goals 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 8 and 9

4. Safer Communities and Neighbourhoods

Establish a Safer Communities and Neighbourhoods Investigative Unit to target organized crime, as part of the implementation of the Safer Communities and Neighbourhoods Act.

Linkage: Goals 1, 2 and 5

5. Coordination of Law Enforcement Support Services

Work with stakeholders to improve program effectiveness, information sharing and communications by implementing innovative technologies at the program level and by adopting common technology approaches to improve intelligence sharing across programs. These changes will enable: linking of first responder radio systems; increasing information sharing by establishing the Alberta Police Integrated Information Initiative; and streamlining law enforcement training for peace officers and police officers through the establishment of a Police and Peace Officer Training Centre.

Linkage: Goals 1, 3 and 6

6. Implement the Blueprint for the Future of Corrections

Review and, where appropriate, enhance offender risk and needs assessment tools. Research best offender behavior management practices such as Motivational Interviewing and direct supervision and ensure that inmate programming, discipline and management is consistent with best practices. Explore opportunities to enhance recruitment, retention and training of employees. Continue to implement plans to address current and projected population pressures in remand and correctional centres and work with justice partners to identify possible solutions to reduce adult custody populations without negatively impacting public safety. Innovative technology will support the expansion of videoconferencing and offender electronic monitoring and be incorporated in the design and operation of the new Edmonton Remand Centre.

Linkage: Goals 3 and 4

7. Enhance Law Enforcement Oversight

Improve the ability of civilian oversight and governance bodies to ensure police and peace officer accountability and to increase public confidence in police and the justice system. This includes the development of new approaches, training programs, and legislation.

Linkage: Goal 1
8. Ensure that Victims of Crime have a Meaningful Role in the Criminal Justice System

Linkage: Goal 6

Assist victim services organizations to provide a more meaningful role for victims in the criminal justice system and to identify opportunities to implement strategies for the provision of improved services for victims of crime in all Alberta communities. Work with community partners to enhance community capacity to respond to victims of crime.

9. Manage Growth in the Liquor and Gaming Industries

Linkage: Goals 7 and 8

With increasing numbers of Albertans and more disposable income per capita, more liquor is being sold and leisure activities such as gaming are attracting more participants. In its strategic decisions, the AGLC weighs (1) integrity, (2) social responsibility, (3) Albertans' right to personal choice, and (4) economic benefits. Private sector and non-profit organizations continue to have opportunities to participate in Alberta's gaming industry. Growth in gaming facilities is carefully managed and controlled through rigorous licensing and evaluation processes. Applicants must have a detailed business and marketing plan and must also demonstrate that they have considered community impacts. In addition, the AGLC continues to monitor Alberta's liquor warehousing and distribution supply chain, and takes an active role to ensure the needs of stakeholders are met.

CORE BUSINESSES, GOALS, STRATEGIES & PERFORMANCE MEASURES

Core Business One: Law Enforcement and Crime Prevention

The province also oversees peace officers and private security personnel, as well as supports police through the Sheriff program.

Strategies

1.1 Provide civilian oversight for all policing and other law enforcement activities across Alberta through the administration, review and refinement of provincial legislation, policy and standards.

1.2 Ensure effective policing through the provision of the Provincial Police Service Agreement and the Municipal Policing Assistance Grants and Aboriginal policing programs.

1.3 Lead the development and coordination of law enforcement partnerships such as the Integrated Response to Organized Crime and Integrated Child Exploitation teams through Alberta Law Enforcement Response Teams to address organized crime, illicit drugs including crystal methamphetamine, and other critical criminal activity pressures.

1.4 Develop the Policing Framework to clarify roles and responsibilities in administering policing activities in Alberta.
1.5 Work with policing partners and stakeholders to introduce common technology to facilitate information integration and interoperability across law enforcement agencies (e.g. integrated police information and networked radio system).
