THE AISH PROGRAM

The Assured Income for Severely Handicapped (AISH) program provides financial and health benefits to eligible adult Albertans with a severe handicap. Three things make up the definition of severe handicap in the Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped Act (AISH Act):

1. you have a medical condition that impairs your mental or physical functioning, or both,
2. your medical condition is likely permanent because there is no therapy available to improve your ability to earn a living, and,
3. your medical condition substantially limits your ability to earn a living.

You are also expected to:

- look for, accept or maintain reasonable employment, or
- make use of suitable training or rehabilitation.

If you are eligible for AISH you may receive:

- a monthly living allowance – money to pay for your living costs such as food, rent and utilities
- a monthly child benefit – money to assist you with raising your dependent children
- health benefits – assistance to cover health needs for you, your spouse or partner and your dependent children
- personal benefits – money over and above your monthly living allowance for specific needs such as a special diet or assistance in an emergency.

You can find out more on the AISH website at alberta.ca/aish.aspx and in the Your Guide to AISH. It is available on the website and through the Alberta Supports Contact Centre and AISH offices listed at the end of this guide. You can also refer to the AISH Policy Manual at humanservices.alberta.ca/AWonline/AISH/7180.html.

Your Guide to Completing the AISH Application contains general information about the Assured Income for the Severely Handicapped (AISH) program and reflects what is in AISH legislation and the AISH Policy Manual. If there are any differences between what is in this document, the policy manual, and the legislation, the legislation shall prevail.

Understanding the AISH Application form

Review the AISH Application - General Information cover page to see:

- an Introduction to the AISH program
- an overview about Applying for AISH
- the Application Checklist Instructions that you can use to make sure you include copies of all the required documents. You will learn more about these documents as you follow along in this guide to complete the form.

After the cover page, the AISH Application has two parts:

PART A - Applicant Information

- You complete Part A using this guide.

PART B - Medical Report

- Your doctor completes Part B and may charge you for this service.
- You are responsible for paying the fee to the doctor to complete the medical report.
- If you are currently receiving Income Support, the cost to fill out the medical report may be covered. Talk to your Income Support worker to discuss your situation.
- If you are not receiving Income Support and need financial help to pay the doctor's fee for completing the medical report, you may apply for other benefits and services, such as Income Support and health benefits, while you are waiting for the AISH program's decision. For more information, call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre listed at the end of this guide.

Completing Part A - Applicant Information

Your Situation

The checklist for Your Situation will help you understand which sections in the application you need to complete and submit to AISH. Depending on your situation, you may be able to skip some sections in the application.

How to complete the Your Situation checklist

Read the statements and check the box beside any statements that describe your situation. Then follow the blue instructions above the statements you checked.

Review this chart to find out how to apply for AISH based on your situation. It shows the sections in the application to complete and parts to submit for each type of situation. In some situations, you may need to contact an AISH office listed at the end of this guide to find out how to apply.

When you get to the area with check boxes that apply to your living situation, review the chart on the next page to decide which box to check. Then fill out the address information for the living situation you checked.

Section 2 – Spouse/Partner Information

We need to understand your household situation, including if you have a spouse or partner, to help determine if you qualify for AISH benefits.

How to complete Section 2

You only need to complete this section if you have a spouse or partner. A spouse or partner refers to a relationship where two people:

- are living together, married or consider themselves in a common law relationship, or
- are married or living together and have a natural or adopted child together, or
- share each other's lives and consider themselves to be in a family and share expenses, or
- depend on each other financially, but are not living together – for example, one partner may be living in a nursing home.

If you don't have a spouse or partner check the No box and go to Section 3.

If you have a spouse or partner, check the Yes box and fill in all the information that applies to them.

There is an area that asks applicants to identify their spouse or partner as male or female gender. Our current AISH computer system requires one of these terms to process an application. We recognize some spouses or partners may not identify with male or female gender. New solutions are being developed to expand gender options in all Alberta government systems and the AISH Application form will be updated when system changes are ready.

Documents you must include

When you submit your AISH Application you must include a copy of one or more documents that show who your partner or spouse is, and where they live. The chart on the next page shows the personal information we need for your spouse or partner, why we ask for it and examples of documents you must copy and include with your application. PLEASE NOTE: Documents cannot be returned, so always send copies and not originals.

Section 3 – Dependent Children Information

We need to understand your household situation, including if there are dependent children, to help determine if you qualify for AISH benefits.

How to complete Section 3

You only need to complete this section if you have one or more dependent children.

A dependent child relies on you for support and lives with you at least 50 per cent of the time and:

- does not have a spouse or partner
- is under 18, or 18 or 19 and going to high school.

If you, or your spouse or partner, do not have any dependent children who live with you, check the No box beside Do you have a child(ren)? at the top of Section 3. Then go to Section 4.

If you, or your spouse or partner, have any dependent children who live with you, then:

- check the Yes box at the top of Section 3 beside Do you have a child(ren)?
- fill in each child's personal information in the information boxes below
- check the Yes box with the question Does this child live with you?

If you have more than three dependent children, attach extra pages with your name and Section 3 written on them. Then provide the same type of information you have given for your other children.

Section 3 – Dependent Children Information

Documents you must include

When you submit your AISH Application you must include a copy of documents with each dependent child's information. The chart below shows the information we need, why we ask for it and examples of documents you must copy and include with your application. ## Section 4 – Trustee/Power of Attorney Information

We need to know if you have someone who is helping you make financial decisions and managing your affairs. It is also important for us to understand whether this person has legal authority to assist you.

How to complete Section 4

A Trustee is an adult or organization that has:

- been appointed by the Courts as a financial trustee for you
- the authority to receive and manage your AISH benefits.

A person acting under a Power of Attorney is an adult who has:

- been legally appointed by you to manage your legal and financial affairs
- power that gives them complete control over all your finances and property, or power that is limited to specific tasks.

AISH will review the Power of Attorney document to determine if this person has legal authority to receive and manage your benefits.

If you do not have anyone supporting you in these roles, check the No box beside Do you have a Trustee or someone currently acting under a Power of Attorney? at the top of this section and go to Section 5.

If you have a Trustee or someone acting under a Power of Attorney for you, they must:

- check the Yes box beside Do you have a Trustee or someone currently acting under a Power of Attorney?
- fill in this section
- complete the financial information in Sections 8 and 9
- sign the declaration in Section 10
- sign the consents in Section 11.

Section 4 – Trustee/Power of Attorney Information

Documents you must include

If you have a Trustee or someone acting under a Power of Attorney for you, a copy of any documents that show who they are and how they have authority to manage your affairs must be included with your AISH application. The chart below shows the information we need, why we ask for it and examples of documents that must be included. PLEASE NOTE: Documents cannot be returned, so always send copies and not originals.

Section 5 – Medical Information

We need you to list your doctors and specialists in this section so we can follow up on your application if more information is required. We also need you to describe how your medical condition affects you and your ability to work. This section does not take the place of Part B of the application, which is the medical report that your doctor has to fill out before your application can be processed.

How to complete Section 5

Fill in your current family doctor's information at the top of the section. If you have been treated by other doctors or specialists in the past two years, check Yes and fill in the boxes to provide AISH with information about them. If not, check No and skip these boxes.

Under the Medical Condition area tell us, in your own words, how your medical condition affects your quality of life and your ability to work. We will review the information you provide here, along with all the other information you submit with your application, to help determine if you qualify for AISH. If you need more space to tell AISH about your medical condition, add extra pages with your full name and Section 5 written on them.

Documents you must include

No documents are required. However, you may choose to include documents that you feel support your medical eligibility. PLEASE NOTE: Documents cannot be returned, so always send copies and not originals.

Section 6 – Employment History

We need to know about your current and past employment to help determine if you qualify for AISH benefits.

How to complete Section 6

If you have never been employed, check No and go to Section 7.

If you are currently working or were employed in the past, check the Yes box at the top of this section. Then provide your employment history in the information boxes. You must:

- provide each employer's name
- give the start date for each job, then check the Yes or No box to indicate if you still work there – if you do not, then give the date you stopped working
- check the box that shows whether the work was full-time, part-time, seasonal/sporadic, volunteer/unpaid, or other and describe what other means
- describe the occupation, role or type of work you did
- check the box that shows the reason you left the job – either your medical condition or some other reason that you provide.

If you need to add more employment history, attach more pages with your full name and Section 6 written on them.

Documents you must include

No documents are required.

Section 7 – Education/Training History

We need to know about education and training you have completed, are taking or planning on taking to help determine if you qualify for AISH benefits.

How to complete Section 7

Fill in What is the highest education level you have completed? by:

- checking the boxes that apply to all your education and training experiences
- giving the information that is requested, including any education and training from outside Canada
- describing any training that has been adjusted to match your needs on the Other line.

Fill in What steps, if any, have you taken to find work or training suitable for your medical condition(s)? by describing:

- training programs you have applied for
- jobs you have applied for
- any work places that have been adjusted to meet your needs or individualized jobs in your work history.

Fill in Are you currently involved with training or upgrading? by:

- checking the No box if you have not
- checking the Yes box if you have and including the:
  - name of provider, such as Norquest College, Bow Valley College, Workers' Compensation Board of Alberta, Alberta Works employment or training program, etc.
  - address where they are located
  - type of program you are taking
  - start date and expected finish date.

Fill in Are you planning to take further training or upgrading? by:

- checking the No box if you are not
- checking the Yes box if you are and including the:
  - type of upgrading or training you are planning to take
  - the goals you would like to achieve by completing the upgrading or training.

Documents you must include

No documents are required.

Section 8 – Income Information

AISH looks at the income you and your spouse or partner have when deciding financial eligibility. Some income types may be partially exempt for you and/or your spouse or partner – this means it is counted at part of its value when determining AISH benefits. We look at the income reported on your income tax form and your spouse or partner's income tax form. We do not look at a dependent child's income. How AISH treats the income depends on where the income comes from and whether it is received by you or by your spouse or partner. All income must be reported to AISH to determine your eligibility.

To find out more about AISH and how different types of income are treated, refer to the Your Guide to AISH or the income section of the AISH Policy Manual at humanservices.alberta.ca/AWonline/AISH/7184.html. You can also get this information from the Alberta Supports Contact Centre or any AISH office location listed at the end of this guide.

How to complete Section 8

You must check Yes or No for each type of income listed in this section.

If you check No, move to the next type of income listed.

If you check Yes, estimate the amount of that type of income you get each month. If you have any income that you receive in some months but not in others, average them out to a monthly amount. For example, if you receive a payment of $60 every two months, this should be listed as $30 per month. Then move to the next types of income listed and follow the same steps.

Documents you must include

When you submit your AISH Application you must include a copy of documents for each type of income you receive. This chart shows each type of income, what it includes and examples of documents you must copy and include with your application. Once we review your application, we may ask you for other documents or information to help us understand your situation. ## Section 9 – Asset Information

We look at the assets you and your spouse or partner own when deciding financial eligibility. We do not look at assets owned by your parents or by your dependent children. Assets are items of value like cash, investments, property and vehicles that are owned by you or your spouse or partner. All assets must be reported to AISH to determine your eligibility.

Some assets may affect your eligibility for AISH and others may not. To find out more about AISH and how different types of assets are treated, refer to the Your Guide to AISH or to the assets section of the AISH Policy Manual at humanservices.alberta.ca/AWonline/AISH/7185.html. You can get also get this information from the Alberta Supports Contact Centre or any AISH office location listed at the end of this guide.

How to complete Section 9

You must check Yes or No for each type of asset listed in this section.

If you check No, move to the next type of asset listed.

If you check Yes, tell AISH about the cash value of that type of asset. Then move to the next type of asset listed.

Documents you must include

When you submit your AISH Application you must include a copy of documents for each type of asset you have. The chart below shows the type of asset, what it includes and examples of documents you must copy and include with your application. Once we review your application, we may ask you for other documents or information to help us understand your situation. ## Section 10 – Declaration

We make decisions about your eligibility for the program by looking at all information you give us with your application. This section is where you declare that all the information you have given AISH is as complete and accurate as you can possibly make it.

The Declaration must be signed. Once it is signed, your application becomes a legal document.

How to complete the Declaration in Section 10

Read the declaration statement 1. If you understand and agree with the statement, print your name and the date on the lines below. Then be sure to sign your name on the signature line.

If you have a guardian, co-decision-maker, person or organization acting as your agent, a Trustee or person acting under a Power of Attorney, they must read statements 1 and 2. If they understand and agree with the statements, they print their name and the date, and sign on the lines provided.

Your AISH Application cannot be processed if the Declaration section is not signed by you, and – depending on your situation – others acting on your behalf.

Section 11 – Consents

We must have your legal permission, also known as consent, to share information with others to help determine if you qualify for AISH benefits. If we need to follow up on your application and information that was given about your household situation, education, training, employment, finances and medical condition, we may contact individuals or organizations such as:

- a guardian, co-decision-maker, person or organization acting as your agent, a Trustee or person acting under a Power of Attorney
- schools, colleges, universities and training providers
- current and past employers
- private businesses such as financial institutions, insurance providers, landlords and property management companies and utility companies
- health professionals and organizations such as hospitals, clinics, nursing homes, labs, pharmacists, doctors and nurses - they are called custodians in the Health Information Act and Health Information Regulation
- social service agencies
- provincial government offices
- federal government offices such as the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) and the Canada Pension Plan Disability (CPP-D) program.

How to complete the Consents in Section 11

There are three consent statements: one for AISH, one for the Canada Revenue Agency and another for Canada Pension Plan – Disability. Read each consent statement. If you agree with it, print your name and the date on the lines below the statement. Then make sure to sign your name on the signature line.

If you have a guardian, co-decision-maker, person or organization acting as your agent, a Trustee or person acting under a Power of Attorney, they must read these statements and sign the document on your behalf.

Your AISH Application may take longer to process if the consents are not signed by you, and – depending on your situation – others acting on your behalf.

If a friend, family member or someone from an organization is helping you with your application, print their name and phone number on the lines provided at the bottom of Part A – Page 8 of 9. By giving their name, you are letting AISH know they may contact us about your application and that we may contact them if we have questions about it.

Completing Part B - Medical Report

Part B of your AISH Application is a medical report for your doctor to fill out. You may not need your doctor to fill out Part B if you have medical documents for psychological, neuropsychological and/or psychoeducational assessments that have been completed within the last five years. Include this information with your Part A - Applicant Information and we will let you know whether you still need to have your doctor fill out Part B. If you do not have these types of medical documents, you must have your doctor fill out the Part B - Medical Report.

Your doctor may charge you a fee for completing the Part B - Medical Report. Here are a few things to know about doctors' fees for this service:

- you are responsible for paying the doctor's fee for completing the medical report
- if you are currently receiving Income Support, the cost to fill out this report may be covered - talk to your Income Support worker to discuss your situation
- if you are not receiving Income Support and need financial help to pay the doctor's fee for Part B of your application, you may apply for other benefits and services, such as Income Support and health benefits, while you are waiting for a decision from the AISH program
- for more information, call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre listed at the end of this guide.

There are two ways the Part B - Medical Report can be submitted to AISH:

- the doctor can send the medical report, with supporting documents, directly to AISH and give you a copy for your own records, or
- the doctor can send the medical report to you, and you can add it to Part A of your AISH application and submit it.

THE AISH APPLICATION PROCESS

Sending or bringing in your application

Follow these steps to send or bring in your complete AISH Application and avoid delays in having it processed:

1. Use the Application Checklist Instructions on the second page of the AISH Application to help you send all the documents that are needed for your situation. This includes sending all the documents for a spouse or partner, dependent children, and/or a Trustee or a person acting under a Power of Attorney for you.
2. Remember to attach extra pages if you need more space in any of the sections. Be sure to write your name and the application section number on all of these extra pages.
3. Be sure to make and keep copies of the AISH Application form and all other documents for your files. Remember, documents you send with this application cannot be returned.
4. Mail, fax or bring your completed AISH Application form and all other documents to the nearest AISH office or Alberta Supports Centre listed in the back of this guide.

If you have not included all the personal, financial or medical information we need to make a decision, we will contact you by phone or mail to ask for more information.

Understanding the application process

Applications are reviewed in the order they are received. We check to make sure you have included all the personal, financial and medical information we need to decide if you are eligible for AISH. If everything is included, we say your application is complete. If anything is missing, we will contact you and ask for it.

Once your application is complete, we review the personal and financial information to determine if you meet the age, residency and financial eligibility criteria. If you meet all of these criteria, then we decide whether you meet the medical eligibility criteria by considering the medical information you and your doctors provided. If you do not meet the age, residency and/or financial eligibility criteria you will not be approved for AISH and your application will not be reviewed for medical eligibility.

Application processing times vary depending on the number of applications AISH receives and how quickly we get all the personal, financial and medical information needed for a complete application. Applicants who are receiving end-of-life palliative care and/or have been diagnosed with a terminal illness are prioritized.

Getting a decision about your eligibility

If your application is approved:

- you will get a letter saying you are eligible for AISH
- your benefits will be backdated to the month AISH received all the information that is needed to approve the application
- you will be contacted by phone or mail to schedule a meeting with an AISH worker to finish the application process and start your AISH benefits, and
- we will ask you to bring your Alberta Personal Health Card, social insurance number and other documents that relate to your situation.

If your application is not approved you will get a letter explaining:

- why you are not eligible for AISH – this may be due to financial, medical or other reasons
- how you can give AISH more information showing a change in your situation
- how to contact AISH if you have questions
- how you can appeal the decision
- where to find out about other financial and health benefit programs that may help you.

Applying for other benefits while waiting

You may apply for other benefits and services, such as Income Support and health benefits, while you are waiting for a decision from the AISH program. Call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre listed at the end of this guide to find out how.
