Employment

Despite the economic downturn, Alberta had the second highest employment growth rate in the country

Alberta's employment in 2015 was 26,500 higher than in 2014. The province's total employment rose to 2,301,100 in 2015, a 1.2% increase from the level in 2014. Alberta had the second highest annual growth rate of employment, tied with British Columbia, at 2.2% in 2015 (See Figure 1). Nationally, employment in Canada rose 0.8% in 2015.

Employment for men in Alberta grew by 0.5% or 6,600, and for women, it rose by 2.0% or 20,100 in 2015. Men and women in Alberta aged 55 years and older accounted for the largest share of employment increase at 4.8% and 4.0% in 2015, respectively. Per cent change in employment for those aged 55 years and older was markedly higher than other age ranges (See Figure 2).

In 2015, full time employment in Alberta increased by 12,300 and part-time employment increased by 14,200. Albertans aged 15 to 24 saw a decrease in full-time employment of 4.4%, with a similar increase in part-time employment of 4.4%.

Unemployment

Alberta had the third lowest unemployment rate in the country

Alberta's unemployment rate rose 1.3 percentage points to 6.0%, from 4.7% in 2015 (See Figure 6). This was the third lowest of the 10 provinces after Saskatchewan's rate of 5.0% and Manitoba's 5.6% (See Figure 7). The unemployment rate for Alberta men increased to 6.0% from 4.7% in 2014, while the unemployment rate for Alberta women increased to 5.6% from 4.9% in 2014.

The number of unemployed people in Alberta increased by 36,300 between 2014 and 2015. Male unemployment increased by 27,800 and for females, increased by 8,600 in 2015, compared to the year before.

The unemployment rate for Alberta youth increased from 9.5% to 10.7% in 2015, the second lowest in all provinces after Saskatchewan's rate of 9.8%. In 2015, Alberta's female youth unemployment rate of 9.2% was lower than the male youth rate of 12.0%.

Education

The proportion of Alberta's labour force with diplomas or degrees continues to rise

The proportion of Alberta's labour force who have attained a diploma, certificate or degree as highest level of education went up from 86.9% in 2011 to 88.6% in 2015 (See Figure 16).

Between 2011 and 2015, those in Alberta's labour force who had attained a high school diploma as highest level of education increased by 9% or 46,600. This group comprised just under a quarter or 23.1% of Alberta's labour force in 2015.

Those in Alberta's labour force who had attained a post-secondary certificate, trade certificate, or diploma as their highest level of education rose by 69,200 or 43.2% between 2011 and 2015. In 2015, this group made up 33.8% of Alberta's labour force. Alberta's labour force that had some post-secondary and a high school diploma as the highest level of education fell by 30,800 or 20.3% over the 2011 to 2015 period. This group made up 6.8% of the Alberta labour force in 2011, and by 2015, it was 4.9%.

In 2015, 26.7% of Alberta's labour force had a bachelor's or graduate degree as highest level of education, which is higher than in 2011 at 22.4%. Of these, 51.6% were women in 2011. In 2015, women made up 53.7% of Alberta's labour force with a bachelor's degree or a graduate degree.

Demographics

Employment rose for Alberta's youth and seniors

Employment in 2015, compared to 2014, was higher for three of four age groups (See Figure 17). Of the four age groups, those aged 25 to 44 had the largest employment increase of 13,700 or 1.3%. Employment grew by 7,500 or 9.1%. For Albertans 65 years and over, the highest employment growth rate among the four age groups. Employment for youth 15 to 24 years of age decreased by 100 or 0.03% in 2015 compared to 2014.

The employment rate for youth 15 to 24 years of age rose 0.2 percentage points in 2015 compared to 2014 (See Figure 18). The Alberta youth employment rate of 61.2% was 5.4 percentage points above the Canadian youth average. Alberta's youth employment rate was the second highest among the 10 provinces, after Saskatchewan's rate of 61.5%.

The employment rate for Albertans aged 25 to 44 was 82.5% in 2015, the third highest among the 10 provinces, after Saskatchewan's rate of 84.5%, and Manitoba's rate of 83.3%. The employment rate for Canadians in this age group was 81.4%. At 19.4%, Albertans aged 65 years and over had the highest employment rate among their provincial counterparts. The national employment rate for the same age group was 12.8% in 2015.
