

Phase Two: Exploring Ideas for Safety

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q: What is the purpose of Phase Two?

A: To provide an opportunity for Albertans with developmental disabilities, their families, and other stakeholders to provide feedback on proposed ideas to support the safety of individuals receiving supports through the Persons with Developmental Disabilities (PDD) program.

Q: What happened in Phase One?

A: Albertans, including individuals with developmental disabilities and their families and guardians, shared their opinions on and experiences with safety in their homes and community. The Consultation Team submitted a Summary Report and recommendations to government based on the feedback received in Phase One. This report is available on the PDD Consultation website humanservices.alberta.ca/pddconsultation

Q: How can I participate in Phase Two?

A: You can complete a questionnaire online at: humanservices.alberta.ca/pddconsultation or print it off and submit it by mail no later than July 6, 2016.

You can also participate in a webinar. Webinars will take place on June 20 and June 27. This is done online so you can participate from anywhere in the province. Registration is required.

A series of focus groups are being held in Edmonton and Calgary with various stakeholders, including self-advocates, families/guardians, service providers, advocacy organizations and municipal officials. Focus group participation is by invitation only.

Focus groups, webinars and questionnaires have the same content and questions.

Q: Where can I find out more information on how to participate?

A: More information is available on the website: humanservices.alberta.ca/pddconsultation.

Q: What will be done with the feedback collected in Phase Two?

A: The Consultation Team will submit a report and recommendations to the Minister of Human Services.
