ACCOUNTABILITY STATEMENT

This Business Plan for the three years commencing April 1, 2001 was prepared under my direction in accordance with the Government Accountability Act and the government’s accounting policies. All of the government’s policy decisions as at April 3, 2001 with material economic or fiscal implications of which I am aware have been considered in preparing the Business Plan.

The Ministry’s priorities outlined in the Business Plan were developed in the context of the government’s business and fiscal plans. I am committed to achieving the planned results laid out in this Business Plan.

INTRODUCTION

MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER

The Children’s Services Ministry has clearly heard from Albertans that all policy and planning decisions should be determined first and foremost by asking what is in the best interests of children. We have been listening. Through the Children’s Forum, Youth Secretariat, Premier’s Task Force on Children at Risk and consultations with First Nations and Metis leaders and agencies, the community has become an active participant in identifying priorities and proposing a course of direction for the Ministry’s 2001-04 business plan.

The Ministry hosts the partnership for municipally based support services for Family and Community Support Services as well as serving the needs of vulnerable people. Municipalities benefit from solid work done in the areas of early intervention, preventive social services and development of local solutions to local priorities. Family members in need of protection against violence, neglect or any form of abuse will be provided access to shelter and other required supports. New areas of focus in the next three years also include the development of integrated, long-term strategies to ensure children with disabilities have access to specialized programs.

Our business plan is based on the principle that parents have the primary responsibility for children. It is grounded in the “Four Pillars” that led to the establishment of the Child and Family Services Authorities confirming integration of services; community-based service delivery; a focus on early intervention; and the improvement of the well being of Aboriginal children.

Through the integrated partnership of the Alberta Children and Youth Services Initiative, we have reviewed and prioritized recommendations from the Children’s Forum and Task Force on Children at Risk Reports and these will be addressed over the next three years. The 18 Child and Family Services Authorities will build and improve on the services delivered at the local level to better meet the needs of children, youth and families in their communities by emphasizing early intervention and healthy beginnings.

On the national stage, Alberta will maintain its leadership role in the advancement of childhood well-being in the areas of early childhood development and youth initiatives. This work will involve building relationships with other governments, families and communities. We are committed to help protect vulnerable children. As a result, the business plan includes ongoing emphasis on protection for children involved in prostitution.

Preventing Fetal Alcohol Syndrome remains a key ministry initiative, and more development will occur through the Alberta Partnership on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome. A number of Alberta Government ministries and community organizations are collaboratively developing initiatives to prevent this disability and to build community capacity for the care and support of those already affected.

Through the annual Great Kids Awards, we will recognize the outstanding contributions of children and youth in their communities and recipients will serve as informal advisors to the Ministry. The Ministry will also continue its collaboration with municipalities on the all night dance parties, Raves, to ensure these events are safe for our young people.

As Colleen Klein stated after the Children’s Forum, “the Forum was not an end but rather a starting point – a starting point for the government and for all Albertans concerned about children”.

This business plan sets the course to improve the well being of all Alberta’s children as well as striving to achieve responsible results for vulnerable Albertans through efficient partnerships and professional services.

VISION STATEMENT

Strong children, families and communities.

Our shared vision is an Alberta where children and youth are valued, nurtured and loved; developing to their potential, supported by enduring relationships, healthy families and safe communities. Alberta will be child, youth and family friendly.

MISSION

Working together to enhance the ability of families and communities to develop nurturing and safe environments for children, youth and individuals.

OUR PLANNING ENVIRONMENT

The Ministry is a dynamic and committed partnership between Child and Family Services Authorities, Family and Community Support Services, the Youth Secretariat, the Children’s Advocate, the Aboriginal community and the Department of Children’s Services. In developing our Business Plan for 2001-2004, we recognize the involvement of our partners and stakeholders who share a common vision for Alberta children, youth and families and our shared accountability for achieving the goals set out in this business plan. The plan demonstrates the Ministry’s on-going commitment to the Four Pillars.

The government business plan including the Government of Alberta’s three core businesses: People, Prosperity and Preservation, guided the development of this plan. People as a core business are the primary linkage between the two plans. More specifically strategy #2 in the government business plan which states “children will be safe” is the focal point of the Ministry of Children’s Services.

OUR SHARED ACCOUNTABILITY – PUT THE CHILDREN FIRST

Enhancing the capacity of communities to plan and implement services to meet the needs of children, youth and families in their area is a priority of the Ministry of Children’s Services and will be achieved through program development assistance, training and partnership strategies. This community capacity building supports the Community-Based Service Delivery Pillar. A provincial accountability framework guides our partnership in the delivery of services to children, youth and families, and our partners are consulted in all major Ministry strategic planning. They help to establish the overall strategic direction for the Ministry and ensure that children, youth and families come first in the planning process.

The Ministry Business Plan, being grounded in the Four Pillars, establishes priorities as well as the overall strategic direction of government to ensure that Alberta’s children, particularly those at risk, are safe, well cared for, successful at learning and healthy. These are based on the following community priorities:

- Planning and service delivery will be integrated at the community, regional and provincial levels to facilitate barrier-free access to services for children, youth and families (Integration Pillar).
- Community participation will be promoted in the delivery of services. The role of support networks and cultural groups will be integrated and expanded within the professional delivery of service (Integration Pillar and Community-Based Service Delivery Pillar).

- Collaboration with Aboriginal communities in planning and delivering services for Aboriginal children, youth and families. The values, cultural and spiritual beliefs and customs of First Nations, Metis and other Aboriginal people will be respected and incorporated into services for Aboriginal children, youth and families (Aboriginal Pillar).
- Timely, accessible services will be available to assist and support children, youth and families to develop skills, to build on their strengths, and reduce the need for crisis intervention (Early Intervention Pillar).
- Support will be provided for community advocacy and development of programs focusing on prevention, preservation of families and positive relationships (Early Intervention Pillar).
- Services will be evaluated for cost effectiveness and timely delivery.

FIRST CIRCLE – UNITING FOR CHILDREN FORUM

The Children’s Forum united a diverse group of stakeholders to identify and address issues facing children. Themes raised at the Children’s Forum gave some direction to the development of the 2001-2004 Ministry Business Plan.

In addition, these themes have been reviewed by all ministries to work toward finding solutions both within individual ministry business plans, and through collaborative strategies. Over the next three years, Children’s Services will be working to strengthen current initiatives that support these recommendations and developing new partnerships and innovative solutions to meet the challenges faced by Alberta children and youth.

TASK FORCE ON CHILDREN AT RISK

The Premier’s Task Force examined issues affecting children at risk and made recommendations to ensure that their needs are met effectively. Based on these recommendations, Ministries will be building on successful strategies and services that address children’s needs as they progress through all key transitional stages of growth and development. Children’s Services will be placing a greater focus on strategies to identify at risk children earlier, and strengthening families’ skills in parenting.

CROSS MINISTRY INITIATIVES

In partnership with other ministries, Children’s Services participates in the Alberta Children and Youth Services Initiative. The aim of this initiative is to develop collaborative priorities and strategies to support Alberta’s children and youth to be healthy, ready to learn, well cared for and safe.

Through the Aboriginal Policy Initiative, Children’s Services will participate in consultation with other Ministries, to develop government-wide and department-specific strategies and performance measures intended to improve the well-being of Aboriginal people and the capacity of Aboriginal communities and organizations to address their own needs.
INTERGOVERNMENTAL INITIATIVES

The Ministry of Children’s Services is working on ways to promote early childhood development in collaboration with the health sector and other governments. In addition, the Ministry is working with other governments and other Alberta ministries to:

- Implement the Early Childhood Development Initiative agreed to by First Ministers.
- Promote a national vision on childhood well-being through the National Children’s Agenda.
- Reduce the depth of child poverty through the National Child Benefit Program.
- Continue involvement in the Prairie/Northern Partnership on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome.
- Explore ways to improve child protection through inter-provincial protocols to reduce child victimization, including protection of children involved in prostitution.

SIGNIFICANT TRENDS, ISSUES AND COMMUNITY PRIORITIES

ECONOMIC TRENDS

Economic growth is expected to remain strong, which supports the well-being of Alberta families; however, it has also attracted many families to the Province, who may require Ministry support. The relatively weak agriculture sector has created stress on families in rural areas. In addition, there are issues of economic disparity. In 1996, over 45% of Aboriginal people in Alberta had a total household income of less than $25,000 compared with 26% of the non-Aboriginal population. The unemployment rate for Aboriginal people was 17.4% while the rate for the non-Aboriginal population was 6.8%.

DEMOGRAPHICS

While the total child population will begin to decline after 2001, demographic trends indicate that a greater proportion of children will be moving into the teenage years, emphasizing the need for increased supports to youth. Between 2000 and 2011, the Aboriginal population is projected to increase by 22%, versus 12% for Alberta’s total population. The importance of this demographic group for Children’s Services is evident in child welfare caseload statistics, which show that over one-third of children in care are Aboriginal.

SOCIAL TRENDS

Alcohol-related birth defects are a widespread problem and many families in Alberta continue to be affected by addiction issues. In Alberta, Aboriginal people represent 39% of the total inmate population in the criminal justice system. As of 1996, 4% of the Aboriginal population had attained a University degree compared with 14% of the non-Aboriginal population. This emphasizes the need for culturally appropriate and accessible services to ensure the well-being and stability of Aboriginal families and communities.

REGIONAL TRENDS

A number of provincial trends have been identified by Child and Family Services Authorities within their Business Plans, including:

- Social issues (suicide, family violence, incarceration, low income, unemployment, educational attainment) impacting Aboriginal children, youth and families, especially Aboriginal youth, combined with a rapidly growing population, continue to challenge Child and Family Services Authorities to improve service delivery and encourage more participation from the Aboriginal population.

- An increase in the number of children involved in Child Welfare and Handicapped Children’s Services and complexity of their situations.
- A shortage of foster homes and specialized placement resources, challenging the quality of placements for children and overburdening of foster parents.
- Shortage of qualified staff, creating human resource vacancies and placing increased pressures in service delivery.

MAJOR AREAS OF EMPHASIS

The following major areas of emphasis for the Ministry Business Plan are based on community priorities identified in the Child and Family Services Authorities’ Business Plans, recommendations of the Children’s Advocate, Children’s Forum and Premier’s Task Force on Children at Risk and areas identified for improvement through Ministry performance measures and research. Each of these areas of emphasis may be specifically based on one of the Four Pillars, but Early Intervention will be a focus across all areas.

ABORIGINAL SERVICES

Better outcomes for Aboriginal children, youth and families are the focus of the Aboriginal Pillar. By working with the Aboriginal community, other Alberta Ministries, and other levels of government to enhance the well-being of Aboriginal people in Alberta, these better outcomes will be achieved. Ministries will be working to develop government-wide and department specific strategies and performance measures to improve the well-being and self-reliance of Aboriginal people and communities.

PERMANENT LIVING SITUATIONS FOR CHILDREN

Ensuring continued connection to family and community is important for all children in permanent care. Strategies will continue to be developed to address children’s need for stability and long lasting, nurturing relationships. This is the focus for a number of Ministry strategies aimed at preserving the cultural heritage of children in care, maintaining their connection to family and community after adoption, and helping them develop into healthy and happy individuals.

BETTER OUTCOMES FOR CHILDREN IN CARE

Working with stakeholders, such as the Children’s Advocate, toward a responsive system that meets the social, emotional and physical developmental needs of children in care through appropriate living situations and long-term planning.

YOUTH SERVICES

Youth must get the services they need, when they need them. Working through the Youth Secretariat, the Youth Advisory Panel, Youth Forum, Youth Focus Groups and as a partner in the Youth Employment Strategy, we will ensure that youth are active participants in identifying relevant issues and shaping Ministry priorities. In addition to improving outcomes for older adolescents that are involved in the child welfare system, the Ministry will work with our partners toward meeting the needs of adolescents with mental health issues and implementing strategies to assist at risk youth making the transition to adulthood. The Ministry will also work to ensure a smooth transition for children, youth and families.
receiving services through Handicapped Children’s Services to services provided through Community Development (Persons with Developmental Disabilities Community Boards).

BUILDING EFFECTIVE PARTNERSHIPS

Developing consultation processes to strengthen and improve working relationships with the Aboriginal community as well as partnerships within Children’s Services, other Alberta ministries and across all levels of government will continue to be a priority for the Ministry. We will continue to work with municipalities and Metis settlements to strengthen and support Family and Community Support Services so that local, preventive social initiatives enhance the well-being of individuals, families and communities.

MINISTRY GOALS, MEASURES AND STRATEGIES

Recognizing that the primary responsibility for children lies with the parents and caregivers, Alberta Children’s Services provides leadership in building a high quality of life for Alberta children and families through its three core businesses. These ministry-wide corporate strategies support the successful achievement of Ministry goals and core businesses, as well as our ability to accomplish future business plan goals and responsibilities. Corporate partnerships also support a number of key cross ministry initiatives aimed at ensuring that the Alberta government is efficient, effective, open and accountable. The following long-term outcome supports all three Ministry core businesses:

ORGANIZATIONAL RESOURCES SUPPORT DESIRED OUTCOMES FOR CHILDREN, YOUTH AND FAMILIES

Appropriate resources will be provided to support effective service delivery within communities by the Ministry and its Partners, including:

- Strengthening the Ministry Accountability Framework
- Training for service providers
- Information systems to monitor results
- Infrastructure required to deliver services
- Appropriate funding to meet priorities
HUMAN RESOURCES
The Ministry will support enhancement of the skills and knowledge of Ministry staff through professional development and learning opportunities, and address the recognition and retention of high quality service providers in the Ministry and other agencies working with children, youth and families. In accordance with the government Corporate Human Resource Development Strategy, recruitment and retention of qualified, well-trained and experienced staff continues to be a priority throughout the province.

GOVERNANCE
Governance is defined as the exercise of authority, direction and control. Supporting effective and accountable delivery of child and family services through a community-based governance model will be the focus for the statutory review of the Child and Family Services Authorities (CFSA) Act. This model will ensure efficient and effective delivery of services while respecting the Minister’s responsibility under the government’s accountability framework. The review will also be the focus of the Ministry’s relationships with other delegated authorities and Family and Community Support Services.

FUNDING ALLOCATION MODEL REVIEW
The Ministry will be establishing a process that involves Child and Family Services Authorities in a comprehensive review of the population-needs based funding allocation model to ensure that it is meeting its objectives in the fair and equitable distribution of provincial funding to Authorities. The review will support fiscal responsibility and accountability as well as the effective allocation of resources to address community priorities.

SHARING INFORMATION ABOUT BEST PRACTICES
The Ministry will create processes for identifying, sharing, implementing and monitoring best practices in the delivery of services to children, youth and families. Children’s Services will be on the forefront of issues impacting children, youth and families and to work with our partners within Alberta and across Canada to develop new ways of doing business that integrate preventive approaches into all services and programs delivered by the Ministry. In the intergovernmental arena, Alberta advances its positions and best practices in order to promote child and youth well-being within its jurisdictional responsibilities.

TECHNOLOGY AND INFORMATION MANAGEMENT
The delivery of children’s services has undergone significant change with the implementation of eighteen Child and Family Services Authorities, and the creation of the Ministry of Children’s Services. The Ministry will develop information systems and strategies that support effective management and accountability, and reporting on results within the overall Corporate Information Management/Information Technology Strategy of Government.

STANDARDS AND MONITORING
Standards must fit within the accountability framework for Children’s Services in an atmosphere of continuous improvement and best practices. The development of a revised/new Provincial Standards Document is a priority for the Ministry. The Provincial Standards will also establish monitoring requirements, responsibilities and mechanisms for monitoring and associated reporting.
PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT

Children’s Services has achieved significant results for children, youth and families over the past year. There is a need to ensure that Ministry performance measurement reflects these results and challenges the Ministry to continue to improve services. The Ministry engages a number of stakeholders to establish meaningful and effective performance measures. These stakeholders include Child and Family Services Authorities, Family and Community Support Services, the First Nations and Metis agencies, communities and organizations and other Ministries involved in Alberta Children’s and Youth Initiative.

POLICY RESEARCH, EVALUATION AND INFORMATION DISSEMINATION

Through policy research and program evaluation initiatives, the Ministry will support evidence-based decisions and program policy development. In partnership with our academic and service delivery partners, we will generate, disseminate and utilize quality policy research to inform the work done by the Ministry. The Ministry will work with partners and stakeholders to identify research priorities, and ensure that issues impacting Alberta children, youth and families are identified and addressed in a proactive and preventive manner.
