“The Spirit of Alberta”, a Cultural Policy for our province, is the result of research and consultation with Albertans, cultural organizations and foundations, other jurisdictions and various ministries in the Alberta provincial government. Albertans have clearly expressed their desire for culture to be a priority and for the Government of Alberta to play a lead role in creating and sustaining the conditions in which culture can flourish.

They also said the Government of Alberta should work in partnership with other levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, other stakeholders and individuals. Albertans said that a vibrant culture is critical to enhancing our quality of life.

“The Spirit of Alberta” is the Alberta government’s response to what we heard. In short, our government acknowledges that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well being of this province and we are committed to continuing to support and promote culture in Alberta’s second century.

Introduction

Alberta is a unique and distinctive part of the Canadian mosaic. We are a bold and freedom-loving people of many backgrounds. We cherish the land that is our legacy and hold dear our independent ways of thought and action.

Although our identity is based on our history and the heritage created by past generations, it continues to evolve and be enriched as our population changes and we consider what is important to bequeath to future generations.

We value the opportunity to enhance our quality of life by enjoying art, music, festivals, dance, culture, literature, sporting events and recreational pursuits, the outdoors, language and food and our heritage.

Many of our residents participate in the cultural life of our communities by volunteering their time and expertise to the service and support of cultural organizations.

What does Culture Mean to Albertans?

We value the natural heritage and human history of Alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

We believe that culture is the glue that connects us as individuals to our communities, fostering unity, civility and a sense of belonging, pride and caring for our fellow citizens. Experiencing the cultural expressions of our neighbours helps us understand each other better and makes the places we live in more interesting. We believe it is important to celebrate cultural distinctiveness as well as cultural similarities.

Albertans have a deep connection to the land. We believe Alberta’s natural glories are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. Our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

We value the natural heritage and human history of Alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a deeper awareness of our common roots and shared identity.

Alberta is a unique and distinctive part of the Canadian mosaic. We are a bold and freedom-loving people of many backgrounds. We cherish the land that is our legacy and hold dear our independent ways of thought and action.

Although our identity is based on our history and the heritage created by past generations, it continues to evolve and be enriched as our population changes and we consider what is important to bequeath to future generations.

We value the natural heritage and human history of Alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a deeper awareness of our common roots and shared identity.
“The Spirit of Alberta,” a Cultural Policy for our province, is the result of research and consultation with Albertans, cultural organizations and foundations, other jurisdictions and various ministries in the Alberta provincial government. Albertans have clearly expressed their desire for culture to be a priority and for the Government of Alberta to play a lead role in creating and sustaining the conditions in which culture can flourish.

They also stated the Government of Alberta should work in partnership with other levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, other stakeholders and individuals. Albertans said that a vibrant culture is critical to enhancing our quality of life.

“The Spirit of Alberta” is the Alberta government’s response to what we heard. In short, our government acknowledges that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well being of this province and we are committed to continuing to support and promote culture in Alberta’s second century.

Alberta is a unique and distinctive part of the Canadian mosaic. We are a bold and freedom loving people of many backgrounds. We cherish the land that is our legacy and hold dear our independent ways of thought and action.

Although our identity is based on our history and the heritage created by past generations, it continues to evolve and be enriched as our population changes and we consider what is important to bequeath to future generations.

We value the natural heritage and human history of Alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

We believe that culture is the glue that connects us as individuals to our communities, fostering unity, vibrancy and a sense of belonging, pride and caring for our fellow citizens. Experiencing the cultural expressions of our neighbours helps us understand each other better and makes the places we live in more interesting. We believe it is important to celebrate cultural distinctiveness and diversity while welcoming and sharing our diverse cultures we create something new and uniquely Albertan.

Introduction

Alberta’s Cultural Policy

What does Culture Mean to Albertans?

We value the natural heritage and human history of Alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of our common roots and shared identity.

Albertans have a deep connection to the land. We believe Alberta’s natural glories are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. Our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

Albertans have a deep connection to the land. We believe Alberta’s natural glories are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. Our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

Alberta’s Cultural Policy

What does Culture Mean to Albertans?

We define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. It also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

At the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. In community, it shared heritage. It is an important part of our identity as a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

We believe that culture is the glue that connects us as individuals to our communities, fostering unity, vibrancy and a sense of belonging, pride and caring for our fellow citizens. Experiencing the cultural expressions of our neighbours helps us understand each other better and makes the places we live in more interesting. We believe it is important to celebrate cultural distinctiveness and diversity while welcoming and sharing our diverse cultures we create something new and uniquely Albertan.

We define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. It also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts. At the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. In community, it shared heritage. It is an important part of our identity as a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.
"the spirit of alberta", a cultural policy for our province, is the result of research and consultation with albertans, cultural organizations and foundations, other jurisdictions and various ministries in the alberta provincial government. albertans have clearly expressed their desire for culture to be a priority and for the government of alberta to play a lead role in creating and sustaining the conditions in which culture can flourish. they also said the government of alberta should work in partnership with other levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, other stakeholders and individuals. albertans said that a vibrant culture is critical to enhancing our quality of life. the spirit of alberta" is the government’s response to what we heard. in short, our government acknowledges that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well being of this province and we are committed to continuing to support and promote culture in alberta’s second century.

introduction

alberta is a unique and distinctive part of the canadian mosaic. we are a bold and freedom-loving people of many backgrounds. we cherish the land that is our legacy and hold dear our independent ways of thought and action. although our identity is based on our history and the heritage created by past generations, it continues to evolve and be enriched as our population changes and we consider what is important to bequeath to future generations.

we value the opportunity to enhance our quality of life by enjoying art, music, theatre, dance, cinema, literature, sporting events and recreational pursuits, the outdoors, language and food and our heritage. many of our residents participate in the cultural life of our communities by volunteering their time and expertise to the service and support of cultural organizations.

what does it mean to be an albertan at the beginning of the 21st century?

what does culture mean to albertans?

alberta is a unique and distinctive part of the canadian mosaic. we are a bold and freedom-loving people of many backgrounds. we cherish the land that is our legacy and hold dear our independent ways of thought and action.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.

we believe that culture is the glue that connects us as individuals to our communities, fostering unity, diversity and a sense of belonging, pride and caring for our fellow citizens. experiencing the cultural expressions of our neighbours helps us understand each other better and makes the places we live in more interesting.

we believe it is important to celebrate our cultural diversity and distinctiveness and to be proud of entering into our local, national and global communities.

we believe that alberta’s natural and human resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.

we define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. it also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

at the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. it is the shared heritage and history that we celebrate in the past, present and future.

living our cultural choices and interests gives us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

albertans have a deep connection to the land. we believe alberta’s natural resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we believe that culture is the glue that connects us as individuals to our communities, fostering unity, diversity and a sense of belonging, pride and caring for our fellow citizens. experiencing the cultural expressions of our neighbours helps us understand each other better and makes the places we live in more interesting.

we believe it is important to celebrate our cultural diversity and distinctiveness and to be proud of entering into our local, national and global communities.

we believe that alberta’s natural and human resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.

we define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. it also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

at the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. it is the shared heritage and history that we celebrate in the past, present and future.

living our cultural choices and interests gives us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

albertans have a deep connection to the land. we believe alberta’s natural resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

alberta's cultural policy

"the spirit of alberta", a cultural policy for our province, is the result of research and consultation with albertans, cultural organizations and foundations, other jurisdictions and various ministries in the alberta provincial government. albertans have clearly expressed their desire for culture to be a priority and for the government of alberta to play a lead role in creating and sustaining the conditions in which culture can flourish.

they also said the government of alberta should work in partnership with other levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, other stakeholders and individuals. albertans said that a vibrant culture is critical to enhancing our quality of life.

"the spirit of alberta" is the government’s response to what we heard. in short, our government acknowledges that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well being of this province and we are committed to continuing to support and promote culture in alberta’s second century.

we define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. it also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

at the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. it is the shared heritage and history that we celebrate in the past, present and future.

living our cultural choices and interests gives us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

albertans have a deep connection to the land. we believe alberta’s natural resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.

we define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. it also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

at the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. it is the shared heritage and history that we celebrate in the past, present and future.

living our cultural choices and interests gives us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

albertans have a deep connection to the land. we believe alberta’s natural resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.

we define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. it also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

at the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. it is the shared heritage and history that we celebrate in the past, present and future.

living our cultural choices and interests gives us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

albertans have a deep connection to the land. we believe alberta’s natural resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.

we define culture in a broad sense, to include not only the arts, but also heritage, sport and recreation, and the natural environment. it also includes creativity and innovation, especially in business and the arts.

at the heart of our understanding of culture is the idea of personal and provincial identity. it is the shared heritage and history that we celebrate in the past, present and future.

living our cultural choices and interests gives us a sense of where we came from and a confidence in who we are.

albertans have a deep connection to the land. we believe alberta’s natural resources are among the most beautiful and inspiring in the world. our attachment to environment through our parks and wilderness areas is an important part of what constitutes our understanding of culture and quality of life.

we value the natural heritage and human history of alberta because they help us understand and value the past on which our present is built, and give us a sense of who we are and where we’ve come from.
Our First Culture
In Alberta, our heritage embraces the traditions and practices of Aboriginal people and the great sites of pre-history. Among the Aboriginal peoples of Alberta, culture embraces not only dance, music, games and traditional dress, but values, beliefs and a deep spiritual relationship with the land. It is important to the way Aboriginal peoples live and also to the way in which Aboriginal communities continue to embrace the future.

The Economic and Social Benefits of Culture
We recognize that cultural activity provides benefits for the economy. Inherent in culture is creativity, which fosters and attracts fresh and innovative thinking. Cultural activity in schools helps to develop flexibility and openness of mind, enhances the ability to question and to solve problems and builds confidence, leadership, self-discipline and self-respect – skills that we prize in the knowledge economy. A vibrant cultural environment will help Alberta to develop, attract and retain skilled and innovative individuals and their families.

Cultural activity in Alberta also has a host of other social benefits that we value, such as countering juvenile crime, contributing to improved physical and mental health and building more harmonious communities.

A Cultural Policy for Alberta – Why now?
As society becomes more complex, Alberta needs to decide what role culture should play in our communities. Our province is undergoing an unprecedented period of economic and population growth. While we value the employment opportunities and wealth that prosperity brings, we recognize that growth does not automatically equate to healthy and well-adjusted individuals and communities. In fact, rapid growth creates many challenges including volunteer fatigue, increased crime, substance abuse, suicide and alienation. “The Spirit of Alberta” provides a framework to help Albertans address these challenges and seize the opportunity to create a better quality of life through increased access to cultural activities.

Fundamental to the Cultural Policy is a more effective and strategic use of our existing cultural resources and increased collaboration among the Government of Alberta and its many partners in fostering a strong and vibrant culture.

The focus of this policy is on balancing and supporting the aspects of culture and quality of life that include professional and amateur individuals and organizations, community engagement of creative and recreational activities, cultural industries, cultural institutions and natural and built heritage.

The strategies of the policy are designed around four important keystones:

- Access – all Albertans, no matter where they live or what their income is, have the opportunity to experience a wide range of cultural activities;
- Capacity – communities have the resources they need to support culture;
- Excellence – our artists and creators are striving to be the best they can be;
- Cultural Industries – government policy will encourage cultural industry capacity, sustainability and development.

The goals and strategies of this policy provide a base of action to support cultural activity through many areas of government. These areas include education, health, children’s services, Aboriginal affairs, among others.

Through combining our strengths to foster, develop and sustain the greatest of all our natural resources – Albertans’ creative energy, a resource as natural and as limitless as our horizons – we will keep the Alberta spirit strong.

In Alberta, our heritage embraces the traditions and practices of Aboriginal people and the great sites of pre-history.
Our First Culture
In Alberta, our heritage embraces the traditions and practices of Aboriginal people and the great sites of pre-history. Among the Aboriginal peoples of Alberta, culture embraces not only dance, music, games and traditional dress, but values, beliefs and a deep spiritual relationship with the land. It is important to the way Aboriginal peoples live and also to the way in which Aboriginal communities continue to embrace the future.

The Economic and Social Benefits of Culture
We recognize that cultural activity provides benefits to the economy. Inherent in culture is creativity. It fosters and attracts fresh and innovative thinking. Cultural activity in schools helps to develop flexibility and openness of mind, enhances the ability to question and to solve problems and builds confidence, leadership, self-discipline and self-respect – all skills that we prize in the knowledge economy. A vibrant cultural environment will help Alberta to develop, attract and retain skilled and innovative individuals and their families.

Cultural activity in Alberta also has a host of other social benefits that we value, such as countering juvenile crime, contributing to improved physical and mental health and building more harmonious communities.

A Cultural Policy for Alberta – Why now?
As society becomes more complex, Alberta needs to decide what role culture should play in our communities. Our province is undergoing an unprecedented period of economic and population growth. While we value the employment opportunities and wealth that prosperity brings, we recognize that growth does not automatically equal healthy and well-adjusted individuals and communities. In fact, rapid growth creates many challenges including volunteer fatigue,increased crime, substance abuse, suicidal and emotional illness. “The Spirit of Alberta” provides a framework to help Albertans address these challenges and seize the opportunity to create a better quality of life through increased access to cultural activities.

Fundamental to this Cultural Policy is a more effective and strategic use of our existing cultural resources and increased collaboration among the Government of Alberta and its many partners in fostering a strong and vibrant culture.

The focus of this policy is on training and supporting the aspects of culture and quality of life that include professional and amateur individuals and organizations, community enhancement of creative and recreational activities, cultural industries, cultural institutions and natural and built heritage.

The strategies of the policy are designed around four important keystones:

- Access – Alberta, no matter where they live or what their income is, have the opportunity to experience a wide range of cultural activities;
- Capacity – communities have the resources they need to support culture;
- Excellence – our artists and creators are striving to be the best they can be;
- Cultural Industries – government policy will encourage cultural industry capacity, sustainability and development.

The goals and strategies of this policy provide a base of action to support cultural activity through many areas of government. These areas include education, health, children’s services, Aboriginal affairs, among others.

Through combining our strengths to foster, develop and sustain the greatest of all our natural resources – Albertans’ creative energy, a resource as natural and as limitless as our horizons – we will keep the Alberta spirit strong.
Our First Culture
In Alberta, our heritage embraces the traditions and practices of Aboriginal people and the great sites of pre-history. Among the Aboriginal peoples of Alberta, culture embraces not only dance, music, games and traditional dress, but values, beliefs and a deep spiritual relationship with the land. It is important to the way Aboriginal peoples live and also to the way in which Aboriginal communities continue to embrace the future.

The Economic and Social Benefits of Culture
We recognize that cultural activity provides benefits for the economy. Inherent in culture is creativity. It fosters and attracts fresh and innovative thinking. Cultural activity in schools helps to develop flexibility and openness of mind, enhances the ability to question and to solve problems and builds confidence, leadership, self-discipline and self-respect – all skills that we pride in the knowledge economy. A vibrant cultural environment will help Alberta to develop, attract and retain skilled and innovative individuals and their families.

Cultural activity in Alberta also has a host of other social benefits that we value, such as countering juvenile crime, contributing to improved physical and mental health and building more harmonious communities.

A Cultural Policy for Alberta – Why now?
As society becomes more complex, Alberta needs to decide what role culture should play in our communities. Our province is undergoing an unprecedented period of economic and population growth. While we value the employment opportunities and wealth that prosperity brings, we recognize that growth does not automatically equate to healthy and well-adjusted individuals and communities. In fact, rapid growth creates many challenges including increased costs, increased crime, substance abuse, suicide and alienation. “The Spirit of Alberta” provides a framework to help Albertans address these challenges and seize the opportunity to create a better quality of life through increased access to cultural activities.

Fundamental to this Cultural Policy is a more effective and strategic use of our existing cultural resources and increased collaboration among the Government of Alberta and its many partners in fostering a strong and vibrant culture.

The focus of this policy is on building and supporting the aspects of culture and quality of life that include professional and amateur individuals and organizations, community engagement of creative and recreational activities, cultural industries, cultural institutions and natural and built heritage.

The strategies of the policy are designed around four important keystones:

Access – Alberta, no matter where they live or what their income is, have the opportunity to experience a wide range of cultural activities;

Capacity – communities have the resources they need to support culture;

Excellence – our artists and creators are striving to be the best they can be;

Cultural Industries – government policy will encourage cultural industry capacity, sustainability and development.

The goals and strategies of this policy provide a base of action to support cultural activity through many areas of government. These areas include education, health, children’s services, Aboriginal affairs, among others.

Through combining our strengths to foster, develop and sustain the greatest of all our natural resources – Albertans’ creative energy, a resource as natural and as limitless as our horizons – we will keep the Alberta spirit strong.

In Alberta, our heritage embraces the traditions and practices of Aboriginal people and the great sites of pre-history.
Alberta is dynamic, multicultural and ever-changing province and it is vital that our Cultural Policy reflect this. The policy will evolve and be modified with necessity to reflect the changing priorities of Albertans. Regular research and consultation will be undertaken to monitor the needs and priorities of Albertans and our diverse cultural organizations.

Alberta’s Cultural Policy is comprised of the following key elements:

- Vision
- Mission
- Guiding Principles
- Goals and Strategies
- Outcomes
- Implementation Approach

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Albertans have expressed their desire for a broad definition of culture, founded on a number of key principles that will inform the policy and guide the province in setting goals and developing cultural strategies, initiatives and programs.

- Accessibility and Participation
- Support for the Arts
- Immigrant and Newcomer Participation
- Stewardship and Sustainability
- Education and Lifelong Learning
- Economic Development
- Access
- Stewardship and Sustainability
- Economic Development
- Access

OUR VISION

The Cultural Policy is built on the fundamental principle that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well-being of all Albertans. The Government of Alberta is committed to supporting provincial culture. Our Vision is an Alberta where all citizens feel a sense of belonging and pride, participate in cultural and recreational activities that reflect their diverse heritage and enrich their lives.

- A Valued Cultural and Creative Community
- A Vibrant Creative Economy
- A Strong Creative Sector
- A Healthy and Inspiring Cultural Environment
- A Diverse and Connected Society
- A Valued Cultural and Creative Community
- A Vibrant Creative Economy
- A Strong Creative Sector
- A Healthy and Inspiring Cultural Environment
- A Diverse and Connected Society

OUR MISSION

An important priority for the Government of Alberta is ensuring that present and future generations of Albertans benefit from a healthy and inspiring cultural environment that builds on our province’s unique heritage and evokes feelings of pride and achievement and contributes to a better quality of life. It is in this spirit that we adopt the following mission:

- Mission
  - To promote Albertans have the opportunity to share, express and experience culture in a province that respects the past, celebrates the present and welcomes the future.
  - To ensure that the cultural sector is a dynamic, diverse and thriving sector that supports provincial culture, the arts and culture. Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.
  - To ensure that location is not a limiting factor, there is an even more attractive place in which to live and to visit.
  - To stimulate the cultural economy and support creative expression, building on the values and achievements that we share, and welcoming newcomers to our province that we will be able to know each other better, and make Albertans an even more attractive place to live, where all citizens can feel a sense of pride and belonging.
  - To develop a thriving cultural community, one that is supported by active volunteers and a strong non-profit sector, and by partnerships and a sharing of responsibility among the Government of Alberta, the private sector, cultural organizations, other government agencies and post-secondary institutions, interpretative centres, historic sites, libraries and museums will ensure the long-term viability of our important cultural resources.
  - To support provincial cultural facilities and its foundations.
  - To promote provincial culture, the arts and culture. Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.
  - To promote our unique cultural heritage. The government also recognizes and protects the tangible and intangible elements of our culture and identity are paramount to the prosperity of the province and the Government of Alberta is committed to continuing to support provincial cultural facilities and its foundations.
  - To promote cultural development. Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.
  - To support provincial culture, the arts and culture. Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.
  - To support provincial culture, the arts and culture. Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.
  - To support provincial culture, the arts and culture. Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.
Alberta’s Cultural Policy is comprised of the following key elements:

• Vision
• Mission
• Guiding Principles
• Goals and Strategies
• Outcomes
• Implementation Approach

OUR VISION
The Cultural Policy is built on the fundamental principle that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well-being of all Albertans. Our Vision is an Alberta where all citizens feel a sense of belonging and pride, and participate in cultural and recreational activities that reflect their diverse heritage and enrich their lives.

Our Vision is an Alberta where all citizens feel a sense of belonging and pride, and participate in cultural and recreational activities that reflect their diverse heritage and enrich their lives.

An important priority for the Government of Alberta is ensuring that present and future generations of Albertans benefit from our diverse cultural organizations.

Albertans have expressed their desire for a broad definition of culture, founded on a number of key principles that will inform the policy and guide the province in setting goals and developing cultural strategies, initiatives and programs.

Our Mission
Alberta’s Cultural Policy is comprised of the following key elements:

• Vision
• Mission
• Guiding Principles
• Goals and Strategies
• Outcomes
• Implementation Approach

Our Mission
An important priority for the Government of Alberta is ensuring that present and future generations of Albertans benefit from our diverse cultural organizations.

Albertans have expressed their desire for a broad definition of culture, founded on a number of key principles that will inform the policy and guide the province in setting goals and developing cultural strategies, initiatives and programs.

Albertans have expressed their desire for a broad definition of culture, founded on a number of key principles that will inform the policy and guide the province in setting goals and developing cultural strategies, initiatives and programs.

• Diversity
• Quality of Life
• Stewardship and Sustainability
• Education and Lifelong Learning
• Economic Development
• Access
• Partnership and Collaboration

• Quality of Life
Quality of life is measured not only by economic prosperity, but by the breadth and depth of participation in cultural activities; a sense of identity and belonging, of confidence, of community and of shared heritage. It is the sum of the physical, mental, social and spiritual components that make up our humanity. It is what will make Alberta an even more attractive place to live and to visit.

• Diversity
It is by celebrating the diversity of our cultural heritage and creative expression, building on the values and experiences that we share, and welcoming newcomers to our province that we will be able to know each other better and make Alberta an even more attractive place to live, where all citizens can feel a sense of pride and belonging.

• A Vibrant Cultural and Creative Community
Culture is, vital to the individual, social and economic prosperity of the province and the Government of Alberta is committed to continuing to support and promote cultural growth in Alberta’s second century.

• Stewardship and Sustainability
Government and citizens share the important responsibility of safeguarding and enhancing culture for future generations. The restoration, preservation and protection of the tangible and intangible elements of our culture and identity are paramount to the sustainability of the province’s cultural fabric. The Government of Alberta encourages the important role played by volunteers and non-profit organizations supporting our cultural communities and supporting our cultural resources and continues to support provincial cultural facilities and its foundations.

• Education and Lifelong Learning
The education system, from early childhood development to post secondary, contributes to and benefits from cultural activities; a sense of identity and belonging. The Government of Alberta is committed to continuing to support and promote cultural growth in Alberta’s second century.

• Economic Development
Culture contributes to a diversified economy through the financial impacts associated with both resident and visitor experiences. Direct economic benefits include employment, tax revenues, local spending and income formed on the province’s cultural landscape.

• Access
Albertans must have the opportunity to join in the full range of cultural experiences in the province. Since culture is important to the development of self-confidence and creative expression, Albertans will contribute to and benefit from cultural activities no matter where they live, whether in urban or rural settings.

• Partnership and Collaboration
The successful development of a thriving cultural sector is dependent upon strong partnerships built on collaboration and a shared commitment to share, expand and experience culture in a province that respects the past, celebrates the present and welcomes the future.
Our Vision
The Cultural Policy is built on the fundamental principle that culture is vital to the individual, social and economic well-being of Albertans. It is essential that the Government of Alberta is committed to supporting provincial culture. The vision is that Albertans feel a sense of belonging and pride, and participate in cultural and recreational activities that reflect their diverse heritage and enrich their lives.

Framework
Alberta is a dynamic, multicultural, and ever-changing province and it is vital that our Cultural Policy reflect this. The policy will evolve and be modified with necessary changes to reflect the changing priorities of Albertans. Regular research and consultation will be undertaken to monitor the needs and priorities of Albertans and our diverse cultural organizations.

Alberta’s Cultural Policy is comprised of the following key elements:

• Vision
• Mission
• Guiding Principles
• Goals and Strategies
• Outcomes
• Implementation Approach

Guiding Principles
Albertans have expressed their desire for a broad definition of culture, founded on a number of key principles that will influence the policy and guide the province in setting goals and developing cultural strategies, initiatives and programs.

• Quality of Life
  Quality of life is measured not only by economic prosperity, but by the benefits of participation in cultural activities: a sense of identity and belonging, of confidence, of community and of shared heritage. It is the sum of the physical, mental, social and spiritual components that make up our humanity. It is what will make Alberta an even more attractive place in which to live and to visit.

• Partnership and Collaboration
  The success of cultural development is enhanced through partnerships. Alberta’s Cultural Policy is supported by active, vibrant and a strong non-profit sector, volunteerism and a sharing of responsibility among the Government of Alberta, the private sector, cultural organizations, other government agencies and Albertans. This collaborative approach, positive and powerful commitments can be made and realized.

• Diversity
  Diversity is reflected in the diversity of our cultural heritage and creative expression, building on the values and experiences that we share, and welcoming newcomers to our province that we will be able to know each other better, and make Alberta an even more attractive place to live, where all citizens can feel a sense of pride and belonging.

• A Vibrant Cultural and Creative Community
  Culture is, vital to the individual, social and economic prosperity of the province and the Government of Alberta is committed to continuing to support and promote cultural growth in Alberta’s second century.

• Stewardship and Sustainability
  The Government and citizens share the responsibility of safeguarding and enhancing culture, protecting the tangible and intangible elements of our culture and identity are paramount to the successful development of a thriving cultural sector. The Government of Alberta recognizes the important role played by volunteers and non-profit organizations in governing, messaging and supporting our cultural resources and continues to support provincial cultural facilities and its foundations.

• Economic Development
  Culture contributes to a diversified economy through the financial impacts associated with both resident and visitor experiences. Direct economic benefits include employment, tax revenues, local spending and income from cultural tourism. Consequently, Albertans will benefit from a supportive environment for the growth of the province’s cultural sector.

• Access
  The Government of Alberta has the opportunity to promote access to share, experience and enjoy culture in a province that respects the past, celebrates the present and prepares for the future.

• Education and Lifelong Learning
  Our schools have a valuable role to play in transmitting cultural values and in enabling cultural and creative exploration for young people.

• Diversity
  Diversity is the sum of the physical, mental, social and spiritual components that make up our humanity. It is what will make Alberta an even more attractive place in which to live and to visit.

• Partnership and Collaboration
  The success of cultural development is enhanced through partnerships. Alberta’s Cultural Policy is supported by active, vibrant and a strong non-profit sector, volunteerism and a sharing of responsibility among the Government of Alberta, the private sector, cultural organizations, other government agencies and Albertans. This collaborative approach, positive and powerful commitments can be made and realized.

• Quality of Life
  Quality of life is measured not only by economic prosperity, but by the benefits of participation in cultural activities: a sense of identity and belonging, of confidence, of community and of shared heritage. It is the sum of the physical, mental, social and spiritual components that make up our humanity. It is what will make Alberta an even more attractive place in which to live and to visit.

• Partnership and Collaboration
  The success of cultural development is enhanced through partnerships. Alberta’s Cultural Policy is supported by active, vibrant and a strong non-profit sector, volunteerism and a sharing of responsibility among the Government of Alberta, the private sector, cultural organizations, other government agencies and Albertans. This collaborative approach, positive and powerful commitments can be made and realized.

• Stewardship and Sustainability
  The Government and citizens share the responsibility of safeguarding and enhancing culture, protecting the tangible and intangible elements of our culture and identity are paramount to the successful development of a thriving cultural sector. The Government of Alberta recognizes the important role played by volunteers and non-profit organizations in governing, messaging and supporting our cultural resources and continues to support provincial cultural facilities and its foundations.

• Economic Development
  Culture contributes to a diversified economy through the financial impacts associated with both resident and visitor experiences. Direct economic benefits include employment, tax revenues, local spending and income from cultural tourism. Consequently, Albertans will benefit from a supportive environment for the growth of the province’s cultural sector.

• Access
  The Government of Alberta has the opportunity to promote access to share, experience and enjoy culture in a province that respects the past, celebrates the present and prepares for the future.

Alberta has expressed its desire for a broad definition of culture, founded on a number of key principles that will influence the policy and guide the province in setting goals and developing cultural strategies, initiatives and programs.
GOALS AND STRATEGIES

The policy, mission and guiding principles of this policy provide a basis of action for support of cultural activity in a number of areas. These include not only performance and fine arts, cultural industries, museums and historic sites, but also education, health, Aboriginal affairs, sport and recreation, parks and rural development.

In all these areas, the Government of Alberta will demonstrate its commitment through actions and partnerships designed both to strengthen the vitality of the cultural community and to ensure that the cultural legacy of Alberta is protected, preserved and enhanced for future generations. Informed by the guiding principles, the vision will be achieved by successfully attaining four basic goals:

GOAL A

Ensure Albertans, throughout the province, have access to a wide range of cultural experiences and opportunities.

In support of Goal A, the government commits to:

- Ensure stable and predictable funding for the provincial government’s cultural facilities and humanities.
- Use new technology to strengthen our ability to share and experience culture.
- Proactively engage students and teachers in the richness and diversity of Alberta’s culture and history through innovative education, interpretation and outreach programming.
- Provide support to communities, municipalities and individuals for the conservation of historic places and for heritage education.
- Ensure Albertans, throughout the province, have access to a wide range of cultural experiences and opportunities.

GOAL B

Enhance community capacity to support and promote cultural activity.

In support of Goal B, the government commits to:

- Encourage greater private charitable giving to non-profit organizations.
- Provide funding for communities to plan, build and upgrade cultural and recreational facilities.
- Explore opportunities to enhance partnerships among all three levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, cultural and educational institutions and individuals for the promotion and support of culture in Alberta.
- Encourage the Government of Alberta to work together in implementing initiatives that fall under the umbrella of the Cultural Policy.

GOAL C

Encourage excellence in the work of Alberta’s artistic and cultural professionals and organizations.

In support of Goal C, the government commits to:

- Provide support for individual artists, provincial arts services organizations, community support organizations and projects.
- Provide support for Alberta’s major performing arts companies and community performing arts organizations.
- Promote and support opportunities to showcase Alberta artists, cultural performers, and heritage professionals (e.g., researchers, archaeologists, palaeontologists, curators) with provincial, federal, and international exposure.
- Review existing cultural and recreational programs with a view to ensuring continued relevance and effectiveness.
- Reinforce the critical role of volunteers in our community.
- Foster new initiatives (cultural and other) that support and engage communities in expressing and sharing their culture and perspectives.
- Promote awareness of the benefit that culture has on the individual, communities, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.

GOAL D

Foster growth, sustainability and investment in Alberta’s cultural industries.

In support of Goal D, the government commits to:

- Explore and identify alternative funding models to enhance the sustainability and growth of Alberta’s film, television and new media production industry.
- Explore and consider options for a cultural industries development program to enhance support for Alberta’s sound recording, book and magazine publishing industries.
- Improve collaboration with cultural industry stakeholders to align government and industry efforts to increase industry capacity, sustainability and development.
- Continue to promote and market Alberta’s cultural industries.
- Provide support for arts festivals, post-secondary artist-in-residence programs, community presenters, Aboriginal arts camps, traveling exhibitions, public galleries and the acquisition of Alberta art.
- Reinforce the critical role of volunteers in our community.
- Facilitate new initiatives (cultural and other) that support and engage communities in expressing and sharing their culture and perspectives.
- Promote awareness of the benefit that culture has on the individual, communities, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.
- Ensure stable and predictable funding for the provincial government’s cultural facilities and humanities.
- Use new technology to strengthen our ability to share and experience culture.
- Proactively engage students and teachers in the richness and diversity of Alberta’s culture and history through innovative education, interpretation and outreach programming.
- Provide support to communities, municipalities and individuals for the conservation of historic places and for heritage education.
- Enhance community capacity to support and promote cultural activity.
GOALS AND STRATEGIES

The goals, mission and guiding principles of this policy provide a base of action for support of cultural activity in a number of areas. These include not only performance and fine arts, cultural industries, museums and historic sites, but also education, health, Aboriginal affairs, sport and recreation, parks and rural development.

In all these areas, the Government of Alberta will demonstrate its commitment through actions and partnerships designed both to strengthen the excellence of the cultural community and to ensure that the cultural legacy of Alberta is protected, preserved and enhanced for future generations. Informed by the guiding principles, the vision will be achieved by successfully attainning four basic goals:

GOAL A
Ensure Albertans, throughout the province, have access to a wide range of cultural experiences and opportunities.

In support of Goal A, the government commits to:

- Ensure stable and predictable funding for the provincial government’s cultural facilities and foundations.
- Use new technology to strengthen our ability to share and experience culture.
- Promote awareness of the importance of culture in health, education, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.
- Reinforce the critical role of volunteers in our community.
- Facilitate partnerships with Indigenous and other distinct communities in expressing and sharing their culture and perspectives.
- Promote awareness of the critical role of culture in health, education, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.

GOAL B
Enhance community capacity to support and promote cultural activity.

In support of Goal B, the government commits to:

- Ensure funding for communities to plan, build and upgrade cultural and recreational facilities.
- Provide support for arts festivals, post-secondary artist-in-residence programs, community presenters, Aboriginal arts camps, traveling exhibitions, public galleries and the acquisition of Alberta art.
- Encourage greater private charitable giving to non-profit organizations.
- Explore opportunities to enhance partnerships among all three levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, cultural and educational institutions and individuals for the promotion and support of culture in Alberta.
- Explore and consider options for a cultural industries development program to enhance support for Alberta’s major performing arts companies and community arts organizations.
- Provide support to communities, municipalities and individuals for the conservation of historic places and for heritage education.
- Provide support for arts festivals, post-secondary artist-in-residence programs, community presenters, Aboriginal arts camps, traveling exhibitions, public galleries and the acquisition of Alberta art.
- Increase public awareness of Alberta’s natural heritage and history through innovative education, interpretive and outreach programming.
- Provide support to communities, municipalities and individuals for the conservation of historic places and for heritage education.
- Provide support for community-based organizations and projects.
- Promote and support opportunities to provide Alberta artists, cultural performers, and heritage professionals (e.g., researchers, archæologists, palæontologists, curators) with provincial, federal, and international exposure.
- Promote awareness of the critical role of culture in health, education, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.

GOAL C
Encourage excellence in the work of Alberta’s artistic and cultural professionals and organizations.

In support of Goal C, the government commits to:

- Provide support for individual artists, provincial arts services organizations, community support organizations and projects.
- Provide support for Alberta’s major performing arts companies and community arts organizations.
- Promote and support opportunities to provide Alberta artists, cultural performers, and heritage professionals (e.g., researchers, archæologists, palæontologists, curators) with provincial, federal, and international exposure.
- Review existing cultural and recreational programs with a view to ensuring continued relevance and effectiveness.
- Promote awareness of the critical role of culture in health, education, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.
- Provide support for arts festivals, post-secondary artist-in-residence programs, community presenters, Aboriginal arts camps, traveling exhibitions, public galleries and the acquisition of Alberta art.
- Provide support for community-based organizations and projects.
- Promote and support opportunities to provide Alberta artists, cultural performers, and heritage professionals (e.g., researchers, archæologists, palæontologists, curators) with provincial, federal, and international exposure.
- Promote awareness of the critical role of culture in health, education, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.

GOAL D
Foster growth, sustainability and investment in Alberta’s cultural industries.

In support of Goal D, the government commits to:

- Explore and identify alternative funding models to enhance the sustainability and growth of Alberta’s film, television and new media production industry.
- Explore and consider options for a cultural industries development program to enhance support for Alberta’s sound recording, book and magazine publishing industries.
- Improve collaboration with cultural industry stakeholders to align government and industry efforts to increase industry capacity, sustainability and development.
- Continue to promote and market Alberta’s cultural industries.
- Provide support for arts festivals, post-secondary artist-in-residence programs, community presenters, Aboriginal arts camps, traveling exhibitions, public galleries and the acquisition of Alberta art.
- Provide support for community-based organizations and projects.
- Promote and support opportunities to provide Alberta artists, cultural performers, and heritage professionals (e.g., researchers, archæologists, palæontologists, curators) with provincial, federal, and international exposure.
- Promote awareness of the critical role of culture in health, education, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.
GOALS AND STRATEGIES

The enabling, enabling and guiding principles of this policy provide a base of action for support of cultural activity in a number of areas. These include not only performance and fine arts, cultural industries, museums and historic sites, but also education, health, Aboriginal affairs, sport and recreation, parks and rural development.

In all these areas, the Government of Alberta will demonstrate its commitment through actions and partnerships designed both to strengthen the resilience of the cultural community and to ensure that the cultural legacy of Alberta is protected, preserved and enhanced for future generations. Informed by the guiding principles, the vision will be achieved by successfully achieving four basic goals:

GOAL A Ensure Alberta’s, throughout the province, have access to a wide range of cultural experiences and opportunities.

In support of Goal A, the government commits to:

- Ensure stable and predictible funding for the provincial government’s cultural facilities and humanities.
- Use new technology to strengthen our ability to share and experience culture.
- Enhance the visibility and awareness of Alberta’s natural heritage and history through innovative education, interpretive and outreach programming.
- Provide support to communities, municipalities and individuals for the conservation of historic places and for heritage education.

- Reinforce the critical role of volunteers in our community.
- Foster First Nations, Métis and other distinct communities in expressing and sharing their culture and perspective.
- Promote awareness of the critical role of culture in health, human rights, youth development, tourism and community.

GOAL B Enhance community capacity to support and promote cultural activity.

In support of Goal B, the government commits to:

- Encourage greater private charitable giving to non-profit organizations.
- Provide funding for communities to plan, build and upgrade cultural and recreational facilities.
- Explore opportunities to enhance partnerships among all levels of government, the private sector, non-profit organizations, cultural and educational institutions and individuals for the promotion and support of culture in Alberta.
- Encourage ministries of the Government of Alberta to work together in implementing initiatives that fall under the umbrella of the Cultural Policy.

- Provide support for arts festivals, post-secondary artist-in-residence programs, community presenters, Aboriginal arts camps, traveling exhibitions, public galleries and the acquisition of Alberta art.

GOAL C Encourage excellence in the work of Alberta’s artistic and cultural professionals and organizations.

In support of Goal C, the government commits to:

- Provide support for individual artists, provincial arts services organizations, community support organizations and projects.
- Provide support for Alberta’s major performing arts companies and community performing arts organizations.
- Promote and support opportunities to provide Alberta artists, cultural performers, and heritage professionals (e.g., researchers, archaeologists, paleontologists, curators) with provincial, federal, and international exposure.

GOAL D Foster growth, sustainability and investment in Alberta’s cultural industries.

In support of Goal D, the government commits to:

- Explore and identify alternative funding models to enhance the sustainability and growth of Alberta’s film, television, and new media production industry.
- Explore and consider options for a cultural industries development program to enhance support for Alberta’s sound recording, book and magazine publishing industries.
- Improve collaboration with cultural industry stakeholders to align government and industry efforts to increase industry capacity, sustainability and development.
- Continue to promote and market Alberta’s cultural industries.
Albertans are proud of their culture and their heritage, and believe that a strong policy accompanied by a committed and supportive government will create an even better Alberta. The desired outcomes include:

- Alberta offers a high quality of life and is recognized nationally and internationally as innovative, competitive and able to attract visitors and retain new residents.
- Albertans explore and express their culture and that of their neighbours, communities, province and country.
- Albertans have a greater awareness and appreciation for culture and its benefits to society and the economy.
- Albertans are proud of their culture and participate in cultural activities that shape and define who they are as Albertans and Canadians.
- Culture in Alberta is vibrant, growing and strong. And, our artists and creators are recognized as leaders in Canada.

MEASURING PERFORMANCE

Effectiveness of the coordinating team will be assessed based on the achievement of the following:

- The goals and strategies of the Cultural Policy are successfully implemented.
- An effective communications strategy for the Cultural Policy is developed, implemented and updated as needed.
- New opportunities for the Government of Alberta to support and promote culture are identified.
- Government support for the Cultural Policy is effective, efficient, collaborative and coordinated.
- In support of Alberta’s Cultural Policy, partnerships are developed among governments, the private sector, the not-for-profit sector, the voluntary sector and other groups interested in culture.

The Government of Alberta has actively encouraged and supported culture for many years by establishing foundations, providing financial support to cultural groups and individuals and operating cultural facilities and institutions.

Our broad definition of culture impacts many government areas and support for culture is widespread through a number of departments, foundations, funds and commissions. In order to maximize return on investment, leverage the existing programs and initiatives, effectively communicate the benefits both internally and externally and ensure the successful implementation of the Cultural Policy, a coordinating team will be created by reallocating and refocusing existing resources.

It will be responsible for ensuring that government’s support for, and promotion of, the Cultural Policy is coordinated and effective. The need for an on-going coordinating team will be evaluated after three years.

MANDATE

- Coordinate the support and promotion of the cultural policy within the Government of Alberta.
- On an ongoing basis and working with other ministries, identify linkages among programs and opportunities to leverage support for the cultural policy within the Government of Alberta.
- Act as cultural policy liaison between the Government of Alberta and cultural groups and organizations in Alberta.
- Develop partnerships involving government, the private sector, the voluntary sector, the non-profit sector and other groups interested in supporting and promoting culture and explore and recommend new ways of supporting Alberta’s Cultural Policy beyond the provision of grants.
- Identify and encourage opportunities for Albertans to share, experience and express our culture and creativity.

IMPLEMENTATION

The Government of Alberta has actively encouraged and supported culture for many years by establishing foundations, providing financial support to cultural groups and individuals and operating cultural facilities and institutions.

Our broad definition of culture impacts many government areas and support for culture is widespread through a number of departments, foundations, funds and commissions. In order to maximize return on investment, leverage the existing programs and initiatives, effectively communicate the benefits both internally and externally and ensure the successful implementation of the Cultural Policy, a coordinating team will be created by reallocating and refocusing existing resources.

It will be responsible for ensuring that government’s support for, and promotion of, the Cultural Policy is coordinated and effective. The need for an on-going coordinating team will be evaluated after three years.
OUTCOMES
Albertans are proud of their culture and their heritage, and believe that a strong policy accompanied by a committed and supportive government will create an even better Alberta. The desired outcomes include:
• Alberta offers a high quality of life and is recognized nationally and internationally as innovative, competitive and able to attract visitors and retain new residents.
• Albertans explore and express their culture and that of their neighbours, communities, province and country.
• Albertans have a greater awareness and appreciation for culture and its benefits to society and the economy.
• Albertans are proud of their culture and participate in cultural activities that shape and define who they are as Albertans and Canadians.
• Culture in Alberta is vibrant, growing and strong. And, our artists and creators are recognized as leaders in Canada.

MEASURING PERFORMANCE
Effectiveness of the coordinating team will be assessed based on the achievement of the following:
• The goals and strategies of the Cultural Policy are successfully implemented.
• An effective communications strategy for the Cultural Policy is developed, implemented and updated as needed.
• New opportunities for the Government of Alberta to support and promote culture are identified.
• Government support for the Cultural Policy is effective, efficient, collaborative and coordinated.
• In support of Alberta’s Cultural Policy, partnerships are developed among governments, the private sector, the non-profit sector, the voluntary sector and other groups interested in culture.

IMPLEMENTATION
The Government of Alberta has actively encouraged and supported culture for many years by establishing foundations, providing financial support to cultural groups and individuals and operating cultural facilities and institutions.

Outr broad definition of culture impacts many government areas and support for culture is widespread through a number of departments, foundations, funds and commissions. In order to maximize return on investment, leverage the existing programs and initiatives, effectively communicate the benefits both internally and externally and ensure the successful implementation of the Cultural Policy, a coordinating team will be created by reallocating and refocusing existing resources.

It will be responsible for ensuring that government’s support for, and promotion of, the Cultural Policy is coordinated and effective. The need for an on-going coordinating team will be evaluated after three years.

MANDATE
• Coordinate the support and promotion of the cultural policy within the Government of Alberta.
• On an ongoing basis and working with other ministries, identify linkages among programs and opportunities to leverage support for the cultural policy within the Government of Alberta.
• Act as cultural policy liaison between the Government of Alberta and cultural groups and organizations in Alberta.
• Develop partnerships involving government, the private sector, the voluntary sector, the non-profit sector and other groups interested in supporting and promoting culture and explore and recommend new ways of supporting Alberta’s Cultural Policy beyond the provision of grants.
• Identify and encourage opportunities for Albertans to share, experience and express our culture and creativity.