MINERAL RIGHTS INFORMATION BULLETIN 2009-01

SUBJECT: Online Zone Designation Log Lookup

The Department of Energy has created a website that contains a library of approximately 1,400 raster images of reference wells and log types for zone designations.

These images may be accessed at the department's website at www.energy.alberta.ca under "Our Business" → "Services" → "PDF Maps" → scroll down to "DRRZD and ZD Legend and Map directory" → click on "Go to the ZD Legend and Log Lookup".

Before using this library, you should familiarize yourself with Information Letter 1998-14 issued on April 29, 1998. This particular information letter explains the history and current use of zone designations in describing petroleum and natural gas rights.

The department makes no claim as to the accuracy of these images and users are encouraged to validate the images themselves before making final decisions on the information provided.
