Product list updates: Oxygen benefits

#166

Alberta Aids to Daily Living (AADL) has updated the approved product list for respiratory benefits. The updates were informed by collaborative discussions with the Respiratory Homecare Association of Alberta.

What has changed

Updated pricing

AADL has increased the maximum it will pay for rural oxygen benefits. The updates apply to the rural flat fee (R733), the rural flat fee set up (R878), and the rural restart fee (R931).

The updated pricing is effective as of March 1, 2024.

AADL recommends that respiratory vendors carefully review the updated Alberta Aids to Daily Living Approved Product List R – Respiratory Benefits to ensure their systems are updated to match. The updated lists can be found on the AADL respiratory benefits page on the Open Government web portal.
